IBRO-APRC International Neuroscience School 2019

Theme of IBRO School: Advanced Techniques to Explore the Functions of Normal and Diseased Brain

22 April – 6 May 2019

International Brain Research Organization - Asia Pacific Research Council (IBRO-APRC) School is a two weeks residential workshop program organized at SCTIMST. This School is sponsored by the IBRO and shortlisted participants (27) are PhD and Post-doc students in Neuroscience from the Asia-Pacific region. During this School, insight will be provided into the functioning of normal and diseased brain through several advanced techniques in different models. Various tools like MRI, fMRI, TMS, patch clamp, molecular imaging, epigenetic tools, optogenetics, EEG and polysomnography will be taught with hands-on to demonstrate brain functioning at different levels. The details of nanotechnology tools for CNS drug delivery, theranostic applications will be shown. Methods for nanotoxicity evaluation will be demonstrated. 3-D printing as a prospective technique for scaling up demands of several tissues will be demonstrated. A special workshop on the Neuroethics to discuss the ethical conduct in scientific research will be the novel component in this School.

Student selection: Completed
